

ANOTHER SPLENDID BUDGET PRESENTED BY FINANCE MINISTER

Canada's Surplus for Past Year Was $7,863,000--Public Debt Has Been Reduced in Ten Years From $50.61 per Head to $43.37 per Head

Ottawa, May 23.—The annual statement of the financial condition of Canada as presented to Parliament yesterday by Hon. W. S. Fielding was one of the best yet given to the House. It was not weighted down with statistical tables and other extraneous matter which is too often included in the budget. The Finance Minister, without any preliminaries, proceeded to the subject in hand, and spoke for an hour altogether. It was known beforehand that there would be no tariff changes this season. There was much local interest taken in the occasion and the galleries were crowded. It was a quarter to five when Mr. Fielding rose to speak and he finished before six o'clock.

Among the features of the budget are the following: Surplus for the past year $7,863,000; surplus estimated for the current year $12,597,000; surplus for nine years $64,000,000; average surplus for nine years $7,144,462. The deficit on the Intercolonial has been practically wiped out. There was a surplus of $900,000 in the post office department.

From 1875 to 1895 Canada's imports decreased, from 1895 to 1905 they more than doubled; exports from 1875 to 1895 showed a small increase; from 1895 to 1905 the exports nearly doubled. The reduction per head of the public debt during the nine years has been from $50.61 to $43.37.

Machinery for mining alluvial gold remains free. Machinery for best sugar manufacturers remains free. Rolled steel rails duty of twenty-five per cent of value of labor.

Mr. Foster replied, making a general criticism and Mr. Patterson replied to Mr. Foster.

CATTLE BUYER FOUND DEAD

Team Ran Away With Neepawa Man and His Body Was Found Near Denby

Plumstead, May 23.—The body of R. H. Hamilton, a cattle buyer of Neepawa, was found to-day by a party of searchers near Denby. Hamilton was on a purchasing trip and had left home May 11th, but was not expected to return for some time. Consequently his absence caused no uneasiness and it was only learned last night after his body was found that his team of bronchos had run away.

ZION CITY MAY BE REMOVED

Western Canada Suggested as More Favorable Site than Chicago

Chicago, May 23.—Plans are being laid by Wilbur Voliva and his followers for a new Zion which will be established if the United States court interferes seriously with the present status of Zion City community. The rapidly developing agricultural district of Western Canada is suggested as a good point for the location of the community.

TWO RESOLUTIONS FROM CALGARY

Commissioners on Legislation and Intelligence Bureau Will be Suggested by the Calgary Board of Trade Delegates

Calgary, May 23.—The Calgary Board of Trade will offer two resolutions at the annual convention of the Boards of Trade of Alberta and Saskatchewan. One recommends the Government to appoint commissioners to hear evidence regarding changes deemed desirable in commercial legislation, and to suggest concrete amendments to existing legislation at next session of legislature. The other urges the Federal and local governments to establish statistical and intelligence bureau, to gather statistics, investigate and report upon the values of agricultural products in foreign markets, to compare foreign and domestic values and estimate costs of middlemen, and if such appears unduly high to give publicity thereto and to investigate and report upon alleged transportation facilities and excessive transportation rates on agricultural products and to enquire into and report upon improved methods of placing agricultural products on the market which will enhance their value to the producer and enlarge our markets.

WILL IRON WORKS GET THE SITE?

Report Recommending Sale of Property Laid Over by the Council

At the city council meeting last night a communication was read by Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaird from Short, Cross, Biggar & Ewing, stating that on behalf of the firm's clients, W. A. Brewster and others, they accepted the city council's offer for the property on Greasbach street before mentioned in a letter from the commission, and that they proposed commencing construction at once, the transfer of the lots to be arranged for later.

Alderman Latta stated that he had no recollection of the city having dealt with the matter, and Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaird said he thought it had been taken up at the last council meeting in the form of a commissioner's report. Reference to the minute book showed that there was no record of any such report having been before the council. Secretary Kinnaird then produced the Commissioner's minute book containing the report, which recommended that the city sell to W. A. Brewster, J. L. Brewster and Messrs. Husey an area equal to 12 lots in block 16, river lot 14 on the corner of Greasbach and Kinnaird and between there and the C. N. R. track, closing up and taking in the lane, for $1000, on condition that the purchasers would use the premises for an iron works, construction to commence at once, and the proprietorship to lapse to the city if at any time the lots would cease to be used for the purpose mentioned. Transfer of the lots was not to be made until the building for the iron works had been erected.

Alderman Latta pointed out that at $1000 it figured out to $50 a lot. Aid. Manson said that the lots should be put up for auction and if these people wanted to buy them they might do so.

Alderman Greasbach said that the commission were already under instructions to bring down a report regarding the land which it was advisable that the city should sell at auction, and yet before this report is in the commissioner's recommendation that these lots be sold, the city could not deal with the Brewster proposition until it had the commissioner's report as to whether it was desirable that these lots should be sold at all or not.

Mayor May said the commissioner had a recommendation from the engineer asking that the city's property in this particular block be retained as a city storage block.

Secretary Kinnaird said the council had expressed its opinion that industries should be encouraged, which was the purpose of the agreement.

Aid. Bellamy said that what the town wanted was industries with a pay roll. Here was a chance to get one, and he would move that the report be adopted. Aid. Picard assented to the motion.

Aid. Latta asked if there was anything in the commissioner's report leading the purchasers down to an agreement as to what they should do.

The secretary said that the lots were being transferred for the purpose of an iron foundry and could not be used for other purposes.

Aid. Greasbach said that the report could wait until they had time to look into it.

Aid. Bellamy said that the matter had been standing over now for three months.

Aid. Greasbach pointed out that the parties had started off by asking for the lots for nothing. Now they were offering $1000. He moved that it be laid on the table.

Aid. Manson said the city wanted a payroll, without doubt, but there was nothing in the letter or report which guaranteed it. He seconded Aid. Greasbach.

Aid. Bellamy and Picard voted in favor of the report being adopted, i.e., to sell the lots.

Aid. Greasbach and Manson voted in favor of laying it on the table.

The mayor pointed out that some of the aldermen were not voting, referring to Aid. Latta and Smith. By his casting vote he declared the motion lost and the amendment carried. The report was laid on the table to come up for consideration later when the council has had time to look into the matter.

"FLORIDA WATER" WAS POISON

Jury in the Duck Lake Fatalities Returns Strong Verdict

Duck Lake, May 23.—"That the Indians who died in the Duck Lake agency came to their death from drinking a poison improperly labelled Florida water. That the compound was manufactured by the Daily Company of Hamilton, Ont., and contained wood alcohol instead of rectified spirits. That in the opinion of the jury all bottles of the same poison should be destroyed. That no patent medicine or liquor containing more than ten per cent of alcohol should be sold to Indians without the order of a physician." This is the verdict before Coroner Stewart of Rosethorn by the jury who sat this afternoon on the inquest into the deaths of the Indians on the reserve so recently visited by the Mounted Police. They have been probing the case and the finding was the result of a thorough investigation on the part of Coroner Stewart, Inspector Generous, S. Davis said that for twenty years Florida water has been sold on the reserve in place of whiskey.

MONEY MISSING BOOKKEEPER GONE

Mounted Police on Trail of George Middleton Charged With Stealing $150 from Lyons' and McInnis' Lumber Mill

Geo. Middleton, bookkeeper at the office of McInnis & Lyons lumber merchants, disappeared from the city on Saturday afternoon, and at the same time $150 of the company's money is also missing.

Middleton, who has been keeping books for McInnis & Lyons for some time, received his wages as usual this morning on Saturday, and left the office. He did not return in the afternoon. The suspicions of the proprietors were aroused, and they began to look into things, subsequently finding that about $150 cash which they had supposed Middleton had deposited in the bank in the morning was missing.

Speaking to the Bulletin this morning, Mr. McInnis said, "He's gone, and that's about all we know about him." The doctor said that Middleton had been out collecting on Friday and collected some $3300. On Saturday morning Middleton started for the bank at the doctor's orders to deposit two cheques, one for $300 and one for $11, together with $10 in bills. The doctor met Middleton about 11 o'clock on the street and asked him if he had deposited the cheques. Middleton said he had. He showed him a deposit slip, which, however, was not the duplicate which they had been told. He told Middleton to get a copy from the bank. When Middleton did not turn up in the afternoon, he telephoned to the bank and discovered that the cheques and money had never been deposited.

The police were immediately informed, and the mounted police are now on the trail for Middleton. The last seen of him was on Saturday when he was on the C. & E. train for the south.

Mr. McInnis figures his loss at about $150, but is not definite in his statement, as the books of the company were in a bad condition when Middleton left.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL MAY LEAD TO LIBEL ACTION

Dr. McGibbon's Letter Rouses Aldermen Who Place Matter in Hands of City Solicitor--Many Local Improvement Petitions Before the Council

The city council came back at Dr. McGibbon last night, by placing his letter in the hands of the city solicitor. No instructions were given the solicitor, but as the supposed reason for placing it in the solicitor's hands, rather than the medical council, is for the purpose of taking action a lively time may ensue over the much discussed emergency hospital.

Petitions for local improvements came in with such a rush last night that Alderman Smith and Alderman Bellamy were for "putting in the plug" for fear that the city would be swamped with debentures for boulevarding and laying sidewalks. The petitions were all passed, however, except one where a boulevard was asked for ahead of water and sewer, which was referred to the city engineer, and a couple which were not properly signed.

The Lorimer company's agent was heard and a draft of a contract was laid before the council, which will be taken up this evening at a special meeting.

overflow in the Sanderson Block. They stated that the city had no answered their communication re the same, and requested a answer before taking action. A minute in a previous meeting showed that the matter had been referred to the city solicitor, who had reported that the city was not liable. Some subsequent correspondence followed, but as the city solicitor and roof, the place to be used for a cartage office. He guaranteed that the place would be removed in the spring, or immediately if any of the ratepayers complained. The request was granted.

Taylor & Boyle wrote as solicitors for J. H. Morris, re damages due to Gilbert Berg addressed the council asking the right to close temporarily the space between his building and Mr. Blouey's on Jasper avenue, a matter of five feet. He said that the structure he proposed to erect would consist of a front and back wall and fire proof Commissioner Kinnaird were not present to give the circumstances regarding the same the communications were laid on the table until they should be present.

Taylor & Boyle also wrote as solicitors for the Edmonston estate offering the property known as "The Cliff" for a site for an isolation hospital. As the council at its last meeting selected a site the matter was laid on the table to be taken up at a future council meeting should the Aldermen desire to reopen the question.

John McLennan wrote tendering his resignation, as returning officer, which was accepted.

Jan. A. Maclean tendered his resignation as deputy returning officer on the understanding that he be appointed returning officer, which was complied with. James B. Walker was appointed deputy returning officer to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Maclean going up to the higher office.

Dr. Brathwaite wrote regarding the letter of Dr. McGibbon in respect to the isolation hospital, as follows:

Edmonton, May 21, '06.

The Commissioner,
City of Edmonton:

I beg to call your attention to a letter written by Donald McGibbon, M.D. C.M. McGill University. You have my report re these conditions of some days ago; because this man loses a patient has he the right to blame everybody

STRATHCONA NEWS ITEMS

The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Strathcona

Rev. Dr. Maclean, editor of the Western Methodist Magazine, Halifax, N. S., arrived in town from the east on the 3:30 p.m. train. He is visiting the Rev. T. A. Johnson, of Strathcona. Robert Palmer, town hall staff, left last night for the Lloydminster district where he proposes taking up a home-stay.

Mr. Denmark, late of England, was the leader, last night, at the regular Epworth League meeting in the Methodist church. The subject was "Temperance". Mr. Denmark gave an address before a large audience.

Mr. Olson was leader of the Christian endeavor meeting last night in the Presbyterian church. He gave an address on "Temperance" before an attentive audience.

Mr. Currie of the Treasury Department was the leader at the B. Y. P. Union last night in the Baptist church. Extravagations for sewer and water are being made on Whyte avenue, both east and west of Main street. The late weather has delayed the work considerably, but there was a large gang of men at work again today and good progress is being made.

Mr. Olson was leader of the Christian endeavor meeting last night in the Presbyterian church. He gave an address on "Temperance" before an attentive audience.

The following were the jurors: Mr. Groat, (foreman) and Messrs. A. Fuller, J. D. Hutton, E. A. Knapp, Dr. J. C. Mainwaring and T. R. Tipton. The first witness was Eugene McGinnis, bar-keeper at the Commercial hotel, who testified that the deceased came into the hotel about 2:30 yesterday and asked for a drink. Several were standing in the room at the time. The deceased took a drink of whiskey and was recognized and spoken to by a man from Vermilion, to whom the deceased said he was living near town and was going to Edmonton. The deceased had another drink of whiskey in company with his friend, Mr. McGinnis then went to the station and on his return he was told by some Gallians to come into the back room, where he saw deceased lying on his right side, he turned deceased over and told Mr. Foster the bartender, that the man was dying and at once summoned Dr. Crang by phone.

Frank, Peter, bar-tender, testified he saw deceased about 3 p.m., when the deceased took a drink of whiskey and drank on the bar when he took him to the back room, and was afterwards called by Mr. McGinnis, who said the man was dying. They carried deceased out into the back yard into the fresh air and called the coroner, who pronounced him dead.

Peter Wellage, testified he knew the deceased since last December and often saw him under the influence of liquor. He said he and the deceased had one drink of whiskey yesterday afternoon at the Commercial and gave evidence that supported that of the previous witnesses.

Wm. Reichen was the next witness. Said he knew deceased since last year and had often seen him drink and the manner of liquor. He had a drink with him yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 p.m. at the Commercial, when the deceased appeared to be in his usual health and manner. He said the deceased was a steady drinker.

Miss Dora Manville testified that deceased came to her house last Saturday between 3 and 4 p.m. and asked if she could help him out as he was in distress and that he could work for her. She told him she would help him if he would not drink. The deceased promised to quit drinking and she sent him to the Royal hotel to secure a room, and gave him $1 to get shaved and cleaned up. He worked Saturday night and Sunday night. The deceased said he had two brothers and one sister and that he was looking for money from home and said he was born in 1862. She gave him another dollar, he returned from the Royal hotel about 11:45 a.m. and had lunch at noon. He stated he wanted to go to Edmonton for his mail, washing and suit case.

The deceased wanted three dollars and she told him not to drink and he said he would not and left the house and that she knew nothing more until Chief Anderson informed her of his death. She noticed that he was very nervous and deceased said he had been on a long spree and that he had worked for Miss King at Medicine Hat.

Chas. Baker, book-keeper at the Royal hotel gave evidence which corroborated that of Miss Manville. Deceased told him Monday morning that he was not feeling well and asked for a drink of whiskey and said he had no money, but would pay for it. The bartender, Mr. Baker, gave him a drink and the deceased then left the house and he had not seen him since.

Coroner Crang addressed the jury at length and stated that he found deceased had enlargement of the heart and other weakness, and explained how liquor would effect such a person who had lately been on a prolonged spree.

The jury were left alone and after some little deliberation on the evidence submitted gave the following verdict:—"That deceased, Wm. Row, came to his death by the excessive use of intoxicating liquor."

AGREEMENT WITH TELEPHONE CO.

City Council Considered Draft Agreement Last Night and Will Meet Again Tonight to Further Consider the Matter

The council spent an hour last night with T. W. Mackay, manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone system, discussing a draft form of agreement which was brought in jointly by Mr. Mackay and Commissioner Kinross, and finally decided to turn the matter over to the city solicitor to find whether the agreement provided the protection that was necessary for the city in case the Lorimer telephone did not give satisfaction.

The agreement provided, in effect, that the company should send a blank number of telephones, switchboard and complete appliances for a central office to the city, the payment for which was to be on a basis of 25 per cent when the plant arrived, 25 per cent when it was installed, 25 per cent in three months and 25 per cent in six months, all installation to be at the company's expense, the city to employ a central office foreman recommended by the company, and to have and to maintain all outside construction material and up to a standard set by the company. The plant was to be installed in seven months, and to be installed here with all due expedition. A clause in the contract provided that the company guaranteed a good workable telephone for all commercial purposes, for seven years.

The contract was read and the council took the matter up for discussion. Ald. Laite asked the city solicitor if the draft agreement gave the city the guarantee that was necessary. He understood that there was to be a bond.

Mr. Beck said that as far as words go the agreement guaranteed the city. For his part he preferred a covenant to a bond at any time.

Ald. Griebach said the agreement guaranteed the city with many provisions. Mr. Beck said that from the company's point of view these provisions were necessary as the company could not undertake to guarantee a first class service unless the outside construction was up to the mark.

Ald. Griebach suggested that the council might get the company to do the outside construction and thus eliminate the provision.

Mr. Mackay said that the standard called for was exceedingly low, as the city engineer if called on would be willing to admit. The difficulty in case his company took the contract for outside construction would be that the city would want to save all the old plant it possibly could, in order to keep down the cost, which would make it so that a contract would not pay the company. His company, he said, would be willing to furnish all data and information at its command and do everything in its power to see that the construction was good.

Alderman Smith wanted to know if there was anything in the agreement which proposed that the city should get the benefit of whatever improvement was made to the Lorimer system in the seven years.

Mr. Mackay said that there was not except that the company would supply the most up-to-date style of plant.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL MAY LEAD TO LIBLE ACTION

but himself? Shall I answer this letter, will the city solicitor do so, or what protection will you give your office's?

This again brings up the question of the isolation hospital, which every city official has been trying to get located and built.

Other patients have been in tents and got along well. I am perfectly certain the city officials did not order the present weather.

When this patient was first sent to the isolation hospital he gave no hopes of him at all and yet he first sent him to the public hospital, where he was for two hours, thereby endangering the lives of all in there and directly contrary to all the rules of contagious diseases; or else he put him in not knowing what was the trouble. This latter can be the only excuse for putting the other patients in such danger.

I can prove that up to the day on which Dr. McGibbon made the complaint and reported to you, that he was perfectly satisfied with the conditions.

E. A. BRAITHWAITE,

Alderman Picard moved that the report be adopted. He said that this was a question which the city officials were trying to do their best to settle the by getting the isolation hospital built and that they had only been delayed by the objection of citizens regarding the selection of a site. He thought that it was Dr. McGibbon's place, if the boy's life was in danger, to come to the authorities in time with his complaint.

Alderman Smith asked that Mr. Main the nurse be heard. Mr. Main said that up to the time of the rain the tent had been all right. After that it had not been as good as it might have been, but not nearly as bad as was made in Dr. McGibbon's letter. Dr. McGibbon had not come to see his patient for twenty-four hours after he had been brought to the hospital. From Tuesday to Saturday he had not called and then had done so only after he had been telephoned to. The patient's foot was very bad, blood poisoning having set in. The boy died at 8:10 on Saturday morning.

Alderman Manson asked if it was true that the blankets were filthy, as charged in Dr. McGibbon's letter. Mr. Main said that they were not; that the blankets were changed three or four times a day, but those which had been taken off could not be used again, because they could not be dried in the tent.

Secretary Treasurer Kinnaird, who was called in to the council chamber said that he and Dr. Braithwaite had considered the statements of Dr. McGibbon and he suggested that the whole circumstances be brought to the attention of the medical association. He thought Dr. McGibbon's charges were unfounded. Alderman Smith said that this was almost a case for legal action. The council was either very, very much at fault or the letter was grossly misrepresenting. It sounded almost like a charge of murder against the whole council.

Alderman Picard and Manson moved that the medical association be asked to appoint or to investigate. Lost.

Alderman Bellamy thought that the matter should be referred to the city solicitor.

Alderman Smith moved and Alderman Bellamy seconded that the matter be referred to the city solicitor.

Richard E. Thompson, of Winnipeg, wrote, stating that he was agent for the Hecman garbage destructor, and that he would like to negotiate for one for Edmonton. The commissioners were instructed to get prices and other particulars.

George Stevenson, Lucy McConnell and others, west enders, wrote protesting against the erection of a steam laundry on lot 106, block 6, which they claimed would be a nuisance in the residential district.

Ald. Bellamy moved that the letter be filed.

Ald. Griebach moved and Ald. Manson seconded that the matter be referred to the city solicitor to learn what are the rights of the rate payers and what are the powers of the council. The amendment carried.

The residents of the Hudson's Bay reserve north of the track petitioned for a six foot sidewalk on the north side of Vermilion from First to Fifth streets. The petition was granted.

The residents of Cliff Street asked for a grade from Syndicate to the river. The petition was granted.

A petition for a six-foot sidewalk from Jasper to Saskatchewan was granted.

A petition for grading and boulevarding Twelfth street, Hudson's Bay reserve, between Hardisty and Victoria avenues was presented. Ald. Bellamy said that grading and boulevarding was all right until it rained. He said that a great deal of the work in the west end would have to be done over again.

Ald. Smith thought the driveway was too narrow.

Ald. Bellamy disagreed with this. Mr. Picard said that the city should not undertake any such work until the streets have water and sewer services laid down and connected.

Ald. Bellamy said it was bringing the council back to the question of debt. This was a frontage proposition, but was nevertheless a debt. The city had to call a half somewhere.

A petition for boulevarding Second street from Jasper to Saskatchewan brought Ald. Smith out with the statement that the city should not undertake too much boulevarding in one year. They should put the plug in somewhere.

Ald. Griebach and Manson moved moved that the petition be granted.

Ald. Picard said they should have a sidewalk.

The mayor stated, on looking at the petition, that it was not properly signed; it needed six more signatures. It was consequently referred back to the petitioners for further signatures.

A petition for boulevarding Thirteenth from Jasper to Victoria was presented.

Ald. Smith said there should be no boulevarding until sewer and water was supplied.

AM. Bellamy was of the same opinion.

Ald. Latta said that he thought they should get a grade at least.

Ald. Griebach was of the opinion that the council should not accept partially signed propositions. The petitioners might prefer to wait until they could get what they wanted; possibly until a new council had been elected.

A petition for grading the lane between Fifth and Sixth, from Hardisty to Saskatchewan was objected to by Dr. Wilson on the grounds that grading the lane would cut it down so as to prevent access to his property. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

The property holders on Isabella from Kinslaine to Government, were granted a grade, a six foot sidewalk and water and sewer extension.

A cement sidewalk on Second from Jasper to Mackenzie, and thence to First was refused on account of not being fully signed.

THE SALE OF LIQUOR TO INDIANS

On April 25th Mr. P. D. Monk, member for Jacques Cartier, introduced a bill designed to make less stringent the laws relating to the sale of liquor to Indians. The amendment read:

Provided, however, that if it be established at any trial had under this section that the Indian or non-treaty Indian is a half-breed, and that the party incriminated or accused has taken every precaution to prevent a violation of the law as contained in this section, and that the accused has acted in good faith, without any knowledge that the party to whom he supplied an intoxicant was an Indian within the terms of section 2 of this act, the judge, magistrate or justice of the peace or Indian agent, shall not find the accused guilty of a violation of this section.

In the debate the Minister of the Interior spoke as follows:

(Hansard, April 25.)

Hon. Frank Oliver (Minister of the Interior) Mr. Speaker, charged with the administration of the Indian Act, and with the conduct of Indian affairs in the country, I must say that I cannot agree with the suggested amendment of the hon. member for Jacques Cartier (Mr. Monk). There is nothing that requires to be more carefully guarded, in the interest not only of the Indian, but of those who live in the vicinity of Indians, than the sale of liquor to Indians. This is a necessity, not only because of the natural racial disposition of the Indian or person of Indian blood, but also because of the different legal status of Indian from that of the ordinary citizen of the country. It has always been recognized under all circumstances and all conditions that the possession of liquor by an Indian was a danger, and that the placing of that liquor in his possession was an offence which should be visited with severe penalties, and that, in dealing with it, the burden of proof should be placed on the giver of liquor rather than on the receiver of it. There may be cases of hardship under the law as it is at present. Cases of hardship arise under any possible law and any possible administration. Very clever arguments may be made and a very plausible case may be set up to show that a change in the law would be proper; but I am satisfied that the experience not only of recent years, but of all the years since white men have had to deal with the Indians on this continent, bears out the idea embodied in the law as it is at present that there should be the greatest stringency in dealing with liquor so far as Indians are concerned. If I read the amendment of my hon. friend correctly it would be absolutely impossible to enforce the law against the sale of liquors in any degree if that amendment were accepted.

The difficulty in proving that one who is recognized as an Indian is not in some degree or to some extent of white blood would make it impossible to effectively enforce the prevention of the sale of liquor to Indians if any non-friend's proposal were adopted. We must presume that those who are charged with the administration of the law will administer it with due regard to all the circumstances and conditions and that although the letter of the law may require the infliction of certain pains and penalties, in certain cases, yet if there are extenuating circumstances those will be given due weight by the magistrate. The administration of the law is necessarily the expression of public opinion, and I would ask the House to consider the necessity, in the case of a law which applies not only to the half-breeds or Indians at Lac Seul, but necessarily to the Indians in all Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for enforcing the greatest care and strictness and trust to common sense and good judgment, and the expression of far-minded public opinion for the protection of all legitimate interests.

I beg to move that the said Bill be not now read the second time, but be read the second time this day six months.

THE BUGBEAR OF THE "DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC"

The proposal of Mr. Hill to build a railway system in the Canadian West has been received with something akin to alarm by a considerable section of the eastern Canadian press and by not a few public men from the same section of the Dominion. These journals and publicists hold up their hands in horror at what they are pleased to consider the "invasion" of the American railway man and grow very considerably alarmed over the possibility of the diversion of western Canada's traffic from the Canadian to the American lines. We are told that Mr. Hill has already "tapped Canadian territory" at a dozen points and is within "striking distance" of nine more, and that the purpose and the result of this invasion is to make the roads beyond the line the carriers of the western trade. Imposing calculations are made of the stupendous sums which Canada as a nation and which Canadians as individuals have invested in the construction of railway and shipping facilities. Harrowing pictures are drawn of the American roads growing fat with the profits made on hauling the products and purchases of the Canadian west, while the grass grows between the ties of our poverty-stricken railways, our deserted warehouses at Port Arthur and Port William crumble into ruins, and the long Atlantic swell murmurs mournfully about the abandoned docks of our ocean ports. Mr. Hill, we are assured, is not building railways through philanthropy, and are supposed to conclude that his only alternative purpose is the "rejuvenation" of our transportation system by the withdrawal of the commerce which gives them sustenance.

Our duty, it is argued, is to rally loyally in defence of our threatened Canadian interests and prevent the machinations of this foreign potentate by forbidding him to trespass on their appointed preserve.

The picture is impressive—too much so to be strictly in accord with the bare facts of the case or the real process of reasoning from those facts. If the export traffic of western Canada is diverted by the Hill system to the American lines it will be diverted not through the lack of sentiment of western Canadians but for one of two very good reasons—either because the market for our products is found in the States traversed by those lines or because those lines will carry our products to tidewater on the Atlantic or the Pacific at lower rates than the Canadian lines. If the market for Canadian grain is to be found in the American cities who will presume to deny the west the right to export grain to those cities? And if American railways will haul our grain to tidewater for less charge than the Canadian lines who has the right to deny western Canada the benefit of the saving in freight? If there were in the circumstances conditions which imposed a handicap on Canadian roads in competing with American roads for the export trade of western Canada an appeal might with some show of reason be made to the exporters of the West to sacrifice something for the general good of the country. But the handicap is on the American roads. The plain position is that no system which Mr. Hill can devise can carry Canadian grain via the United States to an American seaport with less mileage than a Canadian line to a Canadian port. As an export system from western Canada to the sea the new system could therefore divert only such trade as it might be prepared to secure by granting lower rates than the Canadian roads charged for a shorter haul. On the other hand the import trade of the west is or should be sufficiently assured to the Canadian roads by the fact that this trade originates in a section of the Dominion traversed by those lines and not available to any American system.

There is not in the circumstances any good commercial reason to suppose that the welfare of the Canadian railways and ports demands the exclusion of the Hill system, and it remains to be shown from the history of the Canadian roads any sentimental reason why they should be made the proteges of a loyalty they do not need. Other things being approximately equal or even reasonably similar the people of western Canada would prefer to patronize the Canadian roads, but they do not and will not admit themselves the appointed victims of a spurious loyalty which would make their country the exclusive preserve of the Canadian railways.

MADE EXCELLENT START.
The Legislature adjourned Wednesday afternoon last after having acted on every matter coming before it in one way or another. In some respects the session was a remarkable one and in what has been done the Liberal party has made a most admirable start.

If the business of the province is to be handled with the same wisdom and expedition it should be a long time before there could be any wish on the part of the people for a change of government.

As said the session had some unusual aspects. To begin with, it convened March 3rd and the government so managed its deliberations that it was possible to reach prorogation exactly two months afterwards to a day. That may be set down as a record achievement, especially for a first provincial session. Not many of the first Legislatures of Canada have succeeded in doing so well and as a matter of fact not many of the old legislatures have been able to dispose of so great a volume of business in so short a time.

Then, it was a session in which, it is generally agreed, we think that wisdom prevailed throughout, at least there has been no criticism from the opposition press and little or none from the opposition members in the house. If there had been much room for criticism it is not to be supposed it would not have been taken advantage of.

But perhaps most important, it was a business session from start to finish. Very little time was squandered by the members getting themselves into the record with nice sounding speeches and this, as a matter of fact, in the main reason so great a volume of business was disposed of, and it was a large volume. To be sure, much of the legislation was in the nature of adapting former laws to the new status, but there was nevertheless a large amount of constructive legislation.

And it is in what has been accomplished in this direction that the government shines most brightly, at least it stands out most prominently. Had there been nothing else, the initiative taken in respect to the railroad bill granting railroad charters and the movement toward a provincial telephone system, it would be a record to be proud of. No other province of Canada has so hedged about the business of granting railroad charters, safeguards to insure the giving of such charters to only bona fide railroad builders. It is an example it would be well for every legislature in the Dominion to emulate.

There are many other particulars that might be pointed to in which the administration has distinguished itself and we believe sincerely that the people of Alberta have only congratulations coming for the showing made by the Liberal Government in the first Legislature of the province.

The Awakening of Canada

From the special Canadian edition of the London Financial and Bullionist: After the historic voyage in the "Ophir," H.R.H. the Prince of Wales expressed the opinion that we possessed everything we could possibly want in the way of Colonial possessions, and few of us will deny the truth of his statement. Of all those dominions, it is a question whether any are richer in natural resources than the huge tract of country known as British North America, in whose lakes alone the Mother Country could be placed as a mere island. And yet, despite the fact that Canada is next to Newfoundland our oldest colony, it is only of comparatively recent years that any serious attempt has been made to develop its magnificent resources. A perusal of the contents of this Canadian Supplement will show what great progress is being made in every direction and what enormous possibilities this wonderful country affords to the strong, the courageous and the able.

Any review of Canada must of necessity commence with the railways, for it is by their instrumentality that a nearly as large as Europe has been converted from a wild, picturesque wilderness of boundless prairies and towering mountains to a fertile land capable of supporting a population as large as that of the United States of America. The system of railways now spans a continent 3,000 miles wide, and spreads out a close net work in all directions. The most gigantic obstacles raised by nature in her grandest mood have had to be overcome to accomplish much of this work; but but engineering science has been equal to the task. How great the progress has been is shown by the fact that in 1871 the mileage of the railway was only 2,497, whereas now it has expanded to over 29,000 miles. Recently we have seen the completion of a large portion of the Canadian Northern Railway. This important enterprise owed its inception to two Canadians, Messrs. W. Mackenzie and D. D. Mann, whose great ability, wonderful energy and daring ambition are household words not only in the Dominion, but in the United States as well. Eventually we may expect to see the railway a transcontinental one, and the iron road linked with the east and Australia by steamship services.

Since the seventies the population has about doubled; but, according to present indications, the rate of increase will be far greater in the future. In 1904 the Dominion received 150,000 new settlers, but it is estimated that the present year will see the total increased to 150,000. At the present time the popular mind is most impressed by the great inflow of new settlers from the United Kingdom, the United States and various European countries. The like of it has never been seen before in Canadian history, is almost without a parallel in the British Empire, and only in the United States has anything on a similar scale ever been witnessed. The attraction which draws these throngs of eager immigrants is the prospect of obtaining on the easiest possible terms, and even in some cases free of cost, some of the finest land for the production of wheat and other crops that can be found in the British Empire. The western soil is wonderfully fertile. It is far richer than any to be found in the neighboring States of America, producing double the crops which some of the finest land in those States can yield. Yet land can be obtained in the Canadian North-West at one-sixth of the ruling value of inferior land in the United States. It is scarcely surprising that the Americans are crossing the border in their thousands.

While all parts of Canada are receiving fair consideration, the tide flows most strongly to the West—into Manitoba and to the newer provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. An immense territory is there available, capable of accommodating millions of prosperous settlers. Towns are springing up, railway communications are being provided, and the prairies are being transformed into a home of thriving industry.

Fears have been expressed in some quarters that the great influx of immigration from the United States may have in the future, political effects inimical to the Empire's well. We are convinced, however, that these fears are absolutely groundless. The loyalty of the Canadians, who are largely of English or French origin, is too deeply rooted to be easily shaken, but apart from this, the Americans who are settling in our colony are there for making money, and are not likely to place themselves in antagonism to their loyal environment. We have sufficient confidence in the stability of Canadian institutions and the benefits of British rule to feel assured that the Americans who settle in the Dominion will be found among the most loyal of His Majesty's subjects.

But it is in industrial development that the country has recently made its greatest strides. This can be realized best when it is remembered that the value of the manufacturing output is now estimated to reach the substantial sum of 600,000,000 dollars a year—an amount which is in excess of the country's agricultural, dairy, mining, forest and fisheries wealth combined. Rich in the possessions of all the raw materials most essential to the industrial greatness of a country—coal, iron and metal, and timber—Canada has in addition, wonderful natural facilities for the development of electrical power. We refer to the possession of water power for the production of electrical energy. Apart from the great falls of Niagara, the Dominion possesses water falls sufficient to supply energy for the industrial wants of the whole of the North American continent. It does not require the great stretch of the imagination to see the important part which these valuable facilities are bound to play in connection with the development of the Dominion.

Attention may well be directed to the great strides being made in the engineering trades. At the present time Canada is manufacturing for herself work for which, until recently, the Dominion was largely dependent upon the United States. A number of firms are making a specialty of steel rails and car factories have been established for the manufacture of rolling-stock. Both these industries have been brought in their present magnitude by the railway extensions. The agricultural implement trade has assumed enormous proportions. Canada can boast of the possession of the largest and most important agricultural implement factory in the world. Another thriving industry which is making great strides is the manufacture of boots. Many of the firms rival their American counterparts in organization and equipment. The Portland cement industry is also making great progress. There are now at least a dozen great firms, whose works are of the most up-to-date pattern. The manufacture of furniture on a huge scale is now being undertaken. With the timber at their doors there is every reason to believe this industry will assume very important proportions. But beyond and above all, Canada seems destined to control the paper supply of the world. She has more lumber available for wood-pulp than any other country on the American or the European continent. Until recently the Dominion was content to export her pulp, but now serious efforts are being made to manufacture the paper for export. These are of course only a few instances of the wonderful industrial development that is taking place—many others could be mentioned—but they suffice to show that if the nineteenth century has belonged to the United States, the twentieth century bids fair to be Canada's own particular heritage.

Nothing can more clearly demonstrate the rate of progress being made by the Dominion than the reference to the banking figures. In 1904 the total paid-up capital amounted to 62,000,000 dollars and the deposits to 182,000,000 dollars. These figures had increased in brief returns without referring to the late respectively. That very possible confidence is felt in the stability of the banks is fully shown by the substantial premiums at which the shares of all the leading institutions stand in the market list. This satisfactory position is no doubt very largely due not only to the excellent management of the banks, but to the exceptionally fine system of banking laws in force in the country.

We cannot conclude this necessarily brief resume without referring to the necessity of the Imperial Government bringing the Provincial loans of Canada within the scope of the Trustee Act. These provinces are in all respects equal in importance to the Australian colonies comprising the Commonwealth. For instance, Ontario is probably the richest province in the whole of the Empire; it has a population of over two millions, and its securities are really as gilt-edged as any to be found in the Colonial list. Of course the reason why the Provincial loans of Canada are not on an equal footing with those of the Australian Colonies is that the States of the latter country were self-governing Colonies before they became part of the Commonwealth. But it is quite time that matters were found to remove this distinction. Certainly Canadians would greatly appreciate the removal of the grievance, and after all all there do not seem to be any insuperable difficulties in the way of the achievement of this legitimate desire.

Talks on Orange Meat

(THE PURE FOOD)

Oven Perfection.

If you are a woman, you would revel in the huge ovens that cook Orange Meat. Much of the crisp deliciousness of Orange Meat is due to their matchless baking. After the wheat has been cleaned, steam cooked, milled and flaked—the moist flakes are conveyed by automatic carriers to the ovens.

Unless steel screens carry the flakes back and forth, dusting each flake to a rich, golden brown—the final stage in our perfect process of converting a grain of wheat into the most perfect food known to science.

As the major part of every meal for thin people—dyspeptics—"bloodless" folk—those whose systems are "all run down"—and especially for children—Orange Meat has a place that nothing else can take.

A lady in Vancouver says—"Orange Meat is my wholehearted favorite. My brother at 14 years old, has taken a great liking to it, and I am glad as it seems such a light wholesome food. I would recommend to those who are weak with stomach trouble."

At all grocers in 1lb. and 25c. packages. Every 15c. package contains a coupon, good for premiums. 25c. or "jumbo" package contains 2 1/2 times the quantity of the 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston," for new premium catalogue.

—A miniature land slide occurred on the river bank last night in the rear of the Bulletin office, when a portion of the bank gave way and slid to the foot of the hill. The bank is in rather a dangerous condition, the earth having been softened by recent rains.

—The Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation today moved into their temporary office building on the rear of the Imperial Bank property, 129 McDougall street, which building they will use till the construction of the new Imperial Bank block, in which they will have permanent offices.

—E. B. Edwards, K.C., late of Peterborough, Ont., has opened an office in the Norwood block and purposes practicing law in the city. In selecting the site for his permanent location in the great and growing west, Mr. Edwards made a tour of the new provinces and selected Edmonton as the city of all cities marked by fate and destiny for the greatest future. Coming fresh from the east with a mind unprejudiced by any local or sectional feeling, and with an acquaintance with many eastern centres and the causes of their greatness, Mr. Edwards is in a fair position to judge the possibilities and his conclusions, backed up by his decision to locate here, show that he is already a convert to the gospel of Edmonton's greatness.

Y. M. C. A. DINNER

The dinner given by the directors of the Y.M.C.A. in the dining hall of Alberta College last evening was an enjoyable affair and was attended by about fifty young men. The object of the dinner was to gather the young men together to discuss matters in connection with the erection of the new Y.M.C.A. building now being contemplated. R. B. Chadwick, secretary of the Edmonton branch, presided. W. M. Parsons, of Indianapolis, international secretary of the Y.M.C.A. was present and delivered an address of encouragement to the young men. There was also present the Canadian West, he said, for opportunity, and the Y.M.C.A. had a great field here. The year 1906 was to be the great year for the Y.M.C.A. the world over. Last year some 70 buildings were erected. This year over 75 are being built, or will shortly be built, which will involve an outlay of about $5,000,000. A membership of the Y.M.C.A. was the best investment a young man could make. Mr. Chadwick read a communication from the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, which promised the Y.M.C.A. its hearty co-operation in the procuring of any sums for the building fund.

Addresses were also given by Rev. Dr. Riddell and Dr. Smith. Dr. Riddell said that the object was to have a building which would be a credit to the city and a benefit to the young men. The building would not be a showy one, but the privileges in the building would be many. Dr. Smith said that some had thought there had not been much done in Y.M.C.A. work here, but he said that for the past three years there had not been a week in which something had not been done. After the addresses the business of the evening was taken up. Committees to the number of ten, and containing ten members each, were appointed to make a systematic canvass of the working men of the city for subscriptions. It was decided to try to raise $15,000 amongst the working men. The committees will present their report to Mr. Chadwick on June 11th.

AGREEMENT WITH TELEPHONE COMPANY

In making the addition. He was willing to insert a clause to the effect that if any of the additions were so improved that they were not compatible the prior plant the company should replace the earlier sections.

Alderman Griesbach asked, "Where are we at? Having got the company's price, have we now the guarantee? That is a question for the solicitor." Mr. Beck said: "In a sense I suppose you have. You have heard the clause read. I do not know anything about the financial status of affairs. Personally I prefer a covenant to a bond."

Alderman Griesbach: "It seems to me that if some one would make a motion to the effect that the company is offering a good and sufficient guarantee I think we would then know how the council stood on the matter." He suggested that an Alderman Manson was the man who made the first motion in connection with the Lorimer system he might make the motion now.

Alderman Manson moved. "That in the opinion of the council we enter into an agreement with the Machine Telephone Co., and that the city solicitor and commissioner be authorized to form an agreement."

Alderman Griesbach: "I think that the motion should be that the council is of the opinion that the guarantee is such as would protect the city. Alderman Picard's motion leaves a gap." Mr. Mackay said that if the responsibility of the company was to be called into question the record of the company at home was enough. They had met great opposition in Peterborough, which they had overcome. They were here to do business and he was satisfied that any contract which the council thought fair would be accepted by his board at home.

Solicitor Beck prepared a motion which Alderman Picard moved and Alderman Bellamy seconded. A motion that in the opinion of the council the Canadian Machine Telephone Company was able to furnish the service required and give the necessary guarantee and that the city solicitor and commissioners be requested to prepare an agreement.

The motion was passed unanimously and the council adjourned to meet again tonight for final action.
